Program Planned By American Field Service On Sunday

The American Field Service will celebrate its first year of operation in Salem with a public program Sunday afternoon at 3 in the Senior High School gymnasium.

A number of nationality groups are expected to participate, including the Romanians, Italians, Slovaks and Saxons. It also is hoped that there will be a Japanese and a Scotch cultural presentation, according to George Emery and Ralph Martin, who are active in the American Field Service locally.

It was the AFS, with the cooperation of the Salem High School Student Council, that brought Miss Helle Gade Jensen here from Denmark last fall to study at Salem High for her senior year. She is just completing her year as an honor student.

The American Field Service originated during the First World War as a group of volunteer ambulance drivers on the battlefields of Europe. It was reborn with new volunteers in World War II.

Noting the spirit and cooperation of nationalities during this service, a group of veterans decided, after the second war, to develop a peacetime program of international cooperation and understanding. From this has come the present-day American Field Service.

Today, American Field Service is the sponsor of the exchange of high school students for one school year, from foreign countries to the United States. Persons associated with the program locally stress the most important points as follows:

1. AFS is the largest secondary school-age exchange program in the U.S.
2. The students are boys and girls, 16-18 years of age.
3. They must have a working

West To Seek Ban on Laos Arms Shipments

GENEVA (AP) — The international conference on Laos opens today with the West expected to seek a ban on all arms shipments to the Southeast Asian kingdom in an attempt to solidify the shaky truce there.

The U.S., British, Soviet and French foreign ministers were reported to have reached tacit agreement to avoid raising issues that might put new obstacles in the way of negotiations in Laos between the warring factions for establishment of a single coalition government. So far the talks in Laos are still in the preliminary sparring stage.

The Western ministers at the 14-nation conference here reportedly planned to take up only the international aspects of a final settlement to create an independent, neutral Laos.

They were expected to work behind the scenes, however, to promote a political union of the three rival factions in the kingdom—the pro-Western Vientiane regime, the pro-Communist Pathet Lao and Prince Souvanna Phouma's self-styled neutralists, who share Soviet and Red Chinese backing with the Pathet Lao.

An American concession authorized by President Kennedy broke a procedural deadlock to clear the way for the opening of the conference, four days late.

The United States, after opposing seating of Pathet Lao delegates at the conference, gave in rather than have the conference collapse. The three big powers agreed all three Laotian groups would be admitted as advisers or observers.

There was still one holdout, the Western-backed royal government in Vientiane. Its chief delegate in Geneva, Interior Minister Leuan Insiengmay, said he would boycott the conference because the Pathet Lao and Souvanna Phouma's representatives were also invited.

Nevertheless Britain and Russia, as co-chairmen of the conference, made plans to get the parley under way this afternoon regardless of Vientiane's attitude.

The United States has decided

Lake-River Road Group Has Election

Paul Mossman, manager of the Youngstown Area Chamber of Commerce, was elevated to the presidency of the Lake Erie-Ohio River Highway Assn. Monday night during its annual business meeting at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Mossman succeeds Atty. Francis H. Lang of East Liverpool, who had served as president of the four-county organization since its inception three years ago.

A. P. Morris of Salem, manager of the Columbiana County Motor Club, was elected vice president, taking Mossman's former post.

A. C. Patterson, manager of the Ashtabula Chamber, was returned as secretary, and Harold J. Mills, manager of the Warren Area Chamber, was given a new term as treasurer.

Election of officers followed the naming of four directors. Lang, Patterson, Mills and Mossman all were re-elected. The Lake-Erie group held its business meeting here in connection with the Chamber of Commerce dinner program on area highway construction.

3 Columbiana Persons Hurt

Rear-End Collision Occurs On Rt. 14A

Five persons were injured in two traffic mishaps investigated by highway patrolmen Monday.

Both drivers were hospitalized following a two-car accident on Rt. 14A, one mile west of Columbiana, at 3:58 p.m.

In fair condition today in Salem City Hospital is one of the drivers, Howard F. Sarver, 20, of Columbiana, with contusions of the chest and nose injuries. In fairly good condition at the hospital is the other driver, Esterlee J. Travis, 27, of Columbiana, with possible back injury. Receiving minor head injuries but not admitted to the hospital was Jeffery McMaster, 7, of Columbiana, a passenger in the Travis car.

Patrolmen said both cars were extensively damaged when Mrs. Travis slowed down her westbound car and the auto was struck in the rear by the Sarver car. An investigation into the accident will continue when the drivers are released from the hospital, patrolmen said.

Hurt Near Salineville

Two young girls received minor injuries at 8 p.m. Monday when the car in which they were riding left the road along Rt. 39, five miles west of Salineville.

Injured were the daughters of the driver, Patricia Ann Jenkins, 32, of Pittsburgh. They were Barbara, 10, with abrasions of the shoulder, and Patricia, 8, with lacerations of the head. Both were to have been treated by a family doctor, patrolmen said.

The patrol said the mishap occurred when Mrs. Jenkins lost control of the eastbound car, causing the auto to go off the right side of the road and then back across the highway into the ditch and a fence on the left side. Considerable damage was sustained by the car, they said.

STORM FELS TREE

LISBON — The residence of Leo Capehart at 706 N. Market St. was damaged slightly when a tree on the curb lawn was blown down during Monday night's rainstorm. The storm also blew down several TV antennas and scattered tree limbs about.

Soviet Envoy Gives Kennedy Nikita Message

Rumors Persist Of Big 2 Meeting In Europe In June

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov brought a message from Premier Khrushchev to President Kennedy today. He declined to say what it is about.

Menshikov spent little more than a half hour at the White House, at his request.

"I only can say that I have just handed over to the President Mr. Khrushchev's message which is a reply to the President's message of February," he told newsmen afterward.

Kennedy has been interested in meeting Khrushchev, perhaps as a follow-up on Kennedy's forthcoming trip to Paris at the end of this month.

Mum On Subject
Menshikov steadfastly refused to say whether that subject was discussed.

Neither would he further identify the Kennedy message to which he said Khrushchev was replying. Asked if he was referring to a Kennedy message of 10 days ago, Menshikov replied "I think there is no misunderstanding."

"That's all I can say—any further information will have to come from the White House," the white-haired Soviet diplomat added.

Menshikov had smiled broadly and commented about "the fine weather" as he arrived at the executive mansion a couple of minutes ahead of his 10 a.m. date.

Accompanied By Aide
Menshikov was accompanied by one embassy aide, Georgi M. Kornienko.

Menshikov asked for the meeting and U.S. officials said he was bearing a message.

The envoy's request was deemed sufficiently important that Undersecretary of State

GOP Seeks To Override DiSalle Veto

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Today was "do or die day" for Republican attempts to override Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's veto of a bill giving local governments another $15 million a year in highway money.

GOP majority leaders made their decision Monday night. The House, where the bill originated and passed 109-25 March 8, was to take it up first. Holding an 82-55 House margin, the GOP was expected to have little difficulty finding enough Democratic help to get the necessary 84 votes; the three-fifths needed to override.

In the Senate the situation was a little tighter, because 23 votes are needed and Republicans—while in the majority—hold only 20 seats. But, since Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, veteran GOP majority leader from Athens County, called for the attempt, it was obvious they could get enough votes from the other side of the aisle.

The Senate passed the bill 24-13 April 19 with a floor amendment by Sen. Ross Pepple, R-Alen, that would make it effective next Jan. 1. The House agreed to Senate changes 94-32, and then came the DiSalle veto.

The bill is called one of the three most important of this session, the

Stock Exchange Probe Is Ordered by SEC

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's 13 organized stock markets have a big stake in the forthcoming federal investigation of the American Stock Exchange, the second largest.

In announcing plans for the inquiry, the Securities and Exchange Commission said Monday it wants to find out whether new laws or regulations are needed to protect investors against market rigging and other shenanigans.

If the rules are changed, officials said, the revision probably will apply equally to all stock exchanges.

The American Exchange is the only direct target of the new inquiry. It was singled out as a result of an SEC investigation of two of its members, Jerry and Gerard Re. The SEC on May 4 ordered the Res expelled from the exchange on charges of widespread price-rigging and illegal stock sales between 1954 and 1960.

Edward T. McCormick, president of the exchange, issued a statement saying, "We welcome a thorough check of our operation."

20 Persons File Petitions For Election

Twenty candidates who will seek election to village, township and school board posts on a nonpartisan basis at the Nov. 7 general election already have filed petitions, the County Election Board at East Liverpool said today.

The majority of the filings are for township trustee posts, although a slate has been entered from Salineville village and a New Waterford man has filed for a County Board of Education seat.

The Salineville ticket includes Stanley E. Fitch for mayor; Miss Myrtle T. Strabley, incumbent, for treasurer; Lamont Faulkner for clerk and Mary Sweeney and Clyde E. Polen for Council.

Bert W. Keck of New Waterford is the first to file for the County Board of Education post.

The township trustee candidates include Lorain H. Foulks, Harry F. Nulph and Samuel M. Hicks for St. Clair posts; Russell William Davis and George W. Gromley, Salem; Florian Woolf, Emmett F. Hole and Daniel Humenick, Knox; Jimmie B. Stuchell, Carl E. Herron and William D. Hoopes, Butler; S. Charles Fisher, Fairfield, and George M. Batcha, Madison.

Michael Paul Burick filed on the Independent ticket for election as clerk of Leetonia.

Two Are Fined on Contributing Count

LISBON — Two New Brighton, Pa., men were fined and given suspended jail sentences Monday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for contributing to the delinquency of three Pennsylvania boys.

Walter Lapick, 21, and Ronald Lapick, 19, were given a $50 fine and 30-day sentence and a $25 fine and 15-day sentence, respectively, for buying intoxicating liquor for the three youths. Ronald Lapick also was deprived of his driver's license for 30 days.

The juveniles, two aged 16 and one 17, were turned over to the Beaver County, Pa., authorities. The youths were cited by the Columbiana County sheriff's department.

Rejects U.S. Demands To Return Control

Premier Chang, Cabinet Reported Under Arrest

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Chiefs of South Korea's armed forces who seized power in a nearly bloodless coup today defied the United States and ordered the National Assembly and all local government assemblies dissolved.

American authorities in South Korea demanded that control be returned to the elected regime of Premier John M. Chang. But the leaders of the coup said in a proclamation they would take over all government operations.

The proclamation banned all political and social activities and said Chang and his entire cabinet would be arrested.

Backed by Tanks, Troops
Backed by tanks, heavily armed infantry, marines and paratroops swept into Seoul at 4 a.m. and seized control of government buildings. Within a few hours the leaders of the coup claimed control of the country.

Local newspapers said five or six national policemen were killed in a clash on Seoul's outskirts when they opposed the pre-dawn entry of coup forces into the capital. Otherwise only scattered shooting was heard in Seoul, and there were no reports of other casualties.

No disturbances were reported from other cities or from the countryside.

The whereabouts of Premier Chang, 62, could not be learned, but unconfirmed reports said he and his cabinet were under arrest.

Headed by Chief of Staff

The revolutionary committee directing the coup was headed by the army chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, 38. The other members were the chiefs of the air force, marines and navy.

The junta said its aims were to strengthen the nation's anti-Communism, wipe out corruption, improve the economy and continue close relations with the United States. It said "fresh civilian politics can start" when the revolution is completed.

But U.S. Charge d'Affaires Marshall Green and Gen. Carter Magruder, U.S. Commander of U.N. forces in the country, were blunt in their opposition to the coup.

"I wish to make it emphatically clear," said Green in a statement, "that the United States supports the constitutional government of Korea as elected by the people of this republic."

Magruder said he expected the chiefs of the Korean armed forces—who are under Magruder's operational control as part of the U.N. force—to "use their authority and influence to see that control is immediately turned back to the lawful government authorities and that order is restored in the armed forces."

May Be Key Factor

With U.S. military and economic aid still a major bulwark for South Korea's existence as a nation, the strong American expression of support for Premier Chang was expected to be a key factor in the final outcome of the coup.

The coup came nearly 13 months after student rioting broke out and swelled into a nationwide uprising that overthrew Syngman Rhee.

Chang, the old man's chief opponent, has been the dominant political figure ever since. He took office as premier in September

Columbiana VFW, Legion To Conduct Poppy Campaign

COLUMBIANA — Veterans of Foreign Wars Post will conduct its annual "Buddy Poppy" day campaign Saturday, when volunteer canvassers in the business area will seek contributions for the organization's welfare work in return for the paper flowers, fabricated by disabled veterans in various VA hospitals.

Cletus Luther, commander of the local V.F.W. post, explained that expenditure of Buddy Poppy funds is strictly regulated by national by-laws, with the majority of the collections kept in the community to help finance rehabilitation and relief work.

American Legion Post 290 also has announced plans for its "Poppy Days." Sponsored by the Auxiliary of the post, the campaign will be conducted Friday night, May 27.

BOARD OF EDUCATION will conduct its monthly meeting Wednesday night in the conference room at Dixon school.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will bring a circus to town for a pair of performances on Friday, June 9. The King Brothers 3-Ring Circus is scheduled to be set up in the Bott Addition, north of Quincy Ave.

MRS. LEONARD GOIST and Mrs. Richard Souder will be hostesses for the family night picnic of the Columbiana Mothers Club on Wednesday at 6 p.m. in Pavilion 2 at Firestone Park. Officers will be elected during the business session.

Election of new officers also is planned by the Philo Class of the First Methodist Church during its meeting which is scheduled for Thursday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Harold Nelson of 352 N. Main St. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. James Magill, Mrs. Harry McBride, Mrs. Alex Puscher and Mrs. T. V. Utterback. Members are asked to take their tax stamps to the meeting.

The summer street maintenance and improvement program is expected to be a major topic of discussion at the village council meeting tonight at 7:30.

Columbiana Fire Department will be host for a meeting of the Columbiana County Firemen's Association Wednesday night in Pavilion 4 at Firestone Park.

COLUMBIANA'S NEWEST business, Columbiana Builders, located at 217 S. Main St., will have its grand opening Thursday.

The firm is headed by Donald Harris of Youngstown, and its manager is Bob Howe, also of Youngstown. They will handle all home improvement facilities in the finished product stage. This will include aluminum siding, storm windows, kitchen cabinets and stone fronting.

A maximum of 20 employees will be working at the firm in future months, Howe said.

Mrs. Elizabeth Dailey will have charge of the program Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Friendly Neighbors Home Demonstration group at their regular meeting to be held in Theron's meeting room. A coverdish will be enjoyed.

Mrs. Ellis Hayes, from Jensen Beach, Fla., is spending the summer months with relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Weekend guests in the Wilford Scott home were Mr. and Mrs. Luther Bixler of Wooster and Mr. and Mrs. Foster Wilson and son, of Youngstown.

Leo Holloway and Rev. Harold W. Thiedt of Grace Church are delegates this week to the North East Ohio Synod meeting, held at St. Jacob's Church near Lisbon. Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Anderson have received word of the birth of their first grandchild to their daughter and husband, Rev. and Mrs. Rodney Willkie of Indianapolis. The baby was born Sunday. The Willkies address is 711 S. High School Road.

There will be a meeting of all the Bible School teachers and helpers on Wednesday evening at 8 in the Lutheran Church parlor. Material to be used in the Vacation Bible School will be shown.

SONG WITHOUT END—Franz Liszt, the musical genius whose loves were as tempestuous as his music, is portrayed by Dirk Bogarde in the film, "Song Without End," which will be screened at the State Theater Wednesday and Thursday. Capucine plays the Russian princess who inspired Liszt's greatest music.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Readers: Seldom do I devote the entire column to a single letter, but I think this letter deserves every inch of the valuable newspaper space it will take to print it.

I urge all teen-agers to read it carefully. Girls — put yourselves in Betty's place. Boys — put yourself in Al's place. The story recited by this heartbroken mother is not something that happens only to other people. It COULD happen to you.

Broken Heart

Dear Ann Landers: I'm not writing for advice. It's too late for that now. I just hope you'll print this letter. Perhaps it will help someone else.

Our youngest son is 18. He should be graduated from high school in June but he won't. He was married three weeks ago to a girl who is 16. They are expecting a baby in September.

Betty and Al went steady for about three months. She seemed like a pleasant girl but quite shy. Her parents are divorced and her mother works downtown. Al never brought her to the house for us to meet, the way he did other girls. And he never talked about her very much.

ONE DAY I asked him, casually, where his class ring was and he said Betty had it. I asked him if he had a crush on Betty and he answered: "She's all right." His lack of enthusiasm made me uneasy.

A month ago Betty's mother phoned and suggested I come over that evening and bring my husband. I sensed trouble and refused to get off the phone until she told me more.

When she said Betty and Al had better get married right away I knew the whole story. That night when my husband came home from the office I told him at once. We didn't eat much dinner, just went right over to Betty's house. We took Al with us.

It was the most horrible evening of my life. Al sat there with his head buried in his hands and Betty cried the whole time.

BETTY'S MOTHER tried to be helpful. She offered to let Betty and Al share her small apartment — said they could have the bedroom and she'd take the pull-out bed in the living room.

It broke my heart when she said, "Betty will need someone to help her care for the baby. She doesn't know a thing. She's just a baby herself."

So our 18-year-old son quit high school to marry a 16-year-old girl. He always had planned on going on to college — he even had a football scholarship lined up — but that's out now.

We begged him to stay in school but he can't face the kids and, besides, he said a "family man" has to earn money and support his family.

The worst part of it is I don't think he cares much for this girl. They look so sad together.

I DON'T KNOW whether it's our fault for not teaching our son better, or whether it's the girl's fault—or her mother's. But at this stage, fixing the blame doesn't help.

Please, Ann Landers, keep alerting these young kids to the dangers of going too far. Tell the boys if the girls tease and egg them on, they should think beyond the pleasures of the moment. One foolish mistake can mean a ruined life for both of them. — A HEARTBROKEN MOTHER.

TO CAN'T FIGURE IT. Don't waste any more time trying. If the names on the mailbox mean anything, they're married. If it doesn't, the situation is worse than you thought. Either way, it's no good for you—so forget it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Circus Treasurer

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Everybody likes to watch an elephant eat. Everybody, that is, except Rudy Bundy. As treasurer of the Ringling Bros., Barnum and Bailey Circus, he'd like to see some elephants go on a voluntary diet—the ones he buys hay for.

"We have 20 elephants and they eat 30 bales of hay a day—plus all the free peanuts they can mooch. They eat all the time," he said.

"Elephants even eat at night while they're standing up sound asleep. They never quit eating."

The treasurer of "The Greatest Show on Earth" has problems strikingly different from the financial officers of most business corporations.

Finding 30 bales of hay a day on the road for the elephants is easy, Bundy said, compared to the task of buying 550 pounds of horse meat daily for the lions and tigers.

"That is getting harder every year," he remarked. "Sometimes we have to feed them beef. But that's more expensive—and besides, the big cats don't like it as well. They prefer horse meat." Bundy said getting out the payroll for circus people was simple compared to meeting the varied menu demands of the circus animals.

In addition to the elephants, lions and tigers, the circus carries 35 horses, 30 dogs, 2 chimpanzees, 2 gorillas, 3 camels, 3 llamas, 4 bears, 15 cats, 12 white rats, 3 roosters, an ikapi, 2 giraffes, 2 zebras, a fox, a hippopotamus and a goose.

"The big problem is that we've never been able to train the animals to stop eating when we're not showing," Bundy said. "But at that the animals are less of a worry than the people. They aren't as temperamental."

Bundy, a cheerful, blue-eyed man of 54, is a close friend of circus president John Ringling North. He worked his way up to his present post after more than 30 years as a clarinet player and touring band leader. He played at the old Palace Theater here and says he feels he did as much as anybody to kill vaudeville.

"The only financial background I had was a commercial course I took in high school," he said. "The rest of it I had to learn on the job."

At one time there were 130 circuses in America. Now there are only a dozen of any real size.

Who Says You Won't Get POLIO?

Polio struck last summer... and the summer before... and it can strike again this summer. There is no reason why you can't get it—unless you are immunized with vaccine shots.

The groups who appear to be particularly susceptible are young parents and babies. And now is the time to do something about it. It only takes minutes for Polio protection.

Call your physician or local health department.

No one needing this protection should go without it!

The Doctor Says

By DR. H. T. HYMAN

Hazards to be Avoided on Vacations

At risk of sounding like a "kill-joy," I'd like to tell you of a trio of hazards that might wreck your summer holidays.

The first is a warning sounded by the Netherlands Institute for Fish Investigation. It concerns the development of acute abdominal pain and violent diarrhea as the result of a round worm infestation introduced by eating slightly salted raw herring.

It seems that North Sea herring are highly infected with the parasite (ascaris) whose larvae may actually burrow through the wall of the intestine, necessitating urgent surgery.

THE SECOND is a University of Colorado report on a tick-bite fever observed locally as well as in Idaho, Nevada, Wyoming, Montana, Utah, and the eastern portions of Oregon, California and Washington state. At lower altitudes, the illness is commonest in April and May; at higher altitudes, in June and July when adult ticks (dermacentor andersoni) attach themselves to underbrush and trees.

After an incubation period of three to six days, the virus delivered by the tick makes its presence known by causing chilliness, fever, headache and intestinal unrest. The fever runs a "camel-back" course with two peaks, each lasting three days, separated by three days or so of normalcy.

None of the miracle drugs influences the infection so that attention is best focused on prevention. Wearing high boots, leggings or puttees affords protection to the legs. And awareness of the danger may prevent contact with the tick while leaning or sitting against a tree or fumbling in the underbrush. Furthermore, immediate removal of the tick may prevent actual invasion of the tissues by the viral "hitchhiker." Placing a lighted cigarette against the tick's back will usually cause penetrating parts to relax enough to permit complete removal.

THE THIRD of the dangers is posed by the asp, puss or woolly caterpillar (megalopyge opercularis). According to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, this larval stage of the flannel moth ranges from Maryland to Mexico where it is called el perrito ("little dog"). Cocoons are spun on elms, wild plum, sycamore and oak trees. Larvae emerge some time in June.

In an epidemic of caterpillar stings, observed in southeastern Texas, there were more than 2,000 reported cases. Most of those stung noted severe pain at the site of the sting with later swelling of drainage lymph nodes. Some patients complained of severe headache, a few went into shock, requiring admission to a hospital, and five persons suffered convulsions.

The sting is delivered by quills and spines. Their immediate removal with adhesive plaster or Scotch tape, and iced applications appear to control the pain and other manifestations of the reaction. Mild pain killers, like aspirin, are ineffective and it may be necessary to obtain relief through hypodermic injections of a morphine-like product.

Shell's experts have developed many ways to make their own cars run better and last longer. Numbers indicate some of the areas deserving attention, as described below.

Shell recommends 21 ways to make your car last longer

Shell Research scientists dedicate their working lives to the care and feeding of automobiles.

They can offer dozens of tips on prolonging the life of your second biggest investment. Here are some samples which you will find useful.

1. Break in a new car properly. Don't accelerate at full throttle or change gears abruptly. Sudden shocks to gears in the rear axle and transmission can cause lasting damage. Vary your speeds—and especially avoid sustained high speed. Try not to stop too suddenly—it can harm brake surfaces.
2. Warm up slowly. Racing an engine to warm it up ages it fast. A short warm-up at moderate speed is good for your car even in summer, and even more necessary during colder months. But racing your cold engine to warm up may damage critical working parts before lubrication can be fully established.
3. Use your engine to save your brake linings. When you see you'll have to slow down, take your foot off the accelerator early and let the engine's compression do some of the job. Always keep the master brake cylinder full of heavy-duty brake fluid. Shell's Super Heavy Duty brake fluid is designed to help brakes deliver top performance.
4. Have your engine's spark timing set to proper specifications. The spark timing determines whether your plugs fire at exactly the right instant. With incorrect timing you lose power and cut mileage. Also your car may knock. Chronic knocking can damage your engine.
5. Use a gasoline that controls knock. If knocking persists, you may need a gasoline with more anti-knock components, for a higher octane rating. Today's Super Shell contains all of the anti-knock ingredients required to help your car deliver knock-free performance.
6. Learn to read tail pipe smoke signals. Blue smoke means too much oil is getting into the combustion chambers. Excessive blue smoke is a warning that piston rings may be worn—and need replacing. Black smoke is an indication of too much gasoline in the air-fuel mixture. Your carburetor may need an adjustment. White smoke is mostly water vapor. Don't worry about it.
7. Have your oil checked whenever you get gasoline. An oil check is a simple safety check for your engine. It is free—takes less than a minute. By the way, oil does not wear out. But it can be lost through leaks or burning. And it does get dirty. Worse yet, oil can become contaminated by combustion by-products—including acid. To be really safe, use new Shell X-100 Premium Motor Oil. It only costs about $3.60 more per year than regular oils—no more than most premiums.
8. Avoid high speeds and save your tires. Every extra mile your tires last is money in your pocket. High speeds increase wear drastically—by as much as 80% over normal wear.
9. Rotate tires every 5,000 miles. Your tires will last longer because they will all wear evenly, and at the same rate. Note: See your Shell dealer for a set of valve caps; they will prevent air from getting out and dirt from getting in around the tire valve.
10. Check wheel alignment and balance. The shock of hitting curbs or dropping into deep holes can cause misalignment. This drags the wheel at an angle to the line of travel. Nothing wears tires out more quickly. An out-of-line wheel can increase tire wear as much as 50 per cent. An unbalanced wheel pounds the tire against the road, wearing the tread unevenly. Have wheel alignment and balance checked twice a year.
11. Save your battery with 11¢ worth of baking soda. Dirt and corrosion can shorten your battery's life by many months. Wash the battery off with a solution of baking soda and water. Use a wire brush if necessary. Then rinse thoroughly with warm water. Ask your Shell dealer to check the terminals.
12. Change your oil filter element every other oil change. Abrasive specks as small as 1/1000th of an inch in diameter can shorten engine life. The oil filter element in your car helps keep specks of metal and other abrasives out of the engine, while allowing oil to flow freely.

The filter catches and holds these until it can hold no more. Then it can't work effectively.

Replacing the filter element every other oil change helps your engine to last longer.

13. Get a lubrication job regularly. Dirt and moisture can work into chassis joints and bushings. Grease can also pound out, leaving the parts unprotected.

See your Shell dealer for a Shell lubrication. He has the charts, equipment, Shell lubricants, and the skill for a really thorough job.

14. Have your car's cooling system checked twice a year. In time, the inhibitors in your antifreeze lose some of their ability to prevent rust, corrosion and sediment. Let your Shell dealer check the cooling system—including hoses and hose connections—no less than twice a year. When he drains and refills he will add a special Cooling System Protector.

15. Keep door and body panel drain holes clear to foil rust. The little drain holes at the bottom of body panels and doors can get clogged so that the panels actually hold water. Rust can then eat right through the metal. Make sure drain holes are clear.

16. Keep road salt washed off. The chemicals used to clear icy, snowy roads can eat not only the finish, but the body structure itself. Make sure you get it all off the paint and bright metal.

17. Use these tips to help your car stay new looking longer. A good coat of polish provides a film that protects your car's finish. But before you polish your car, always wash it—and always in the shade.

Some new car finishes need only a good washing, but others require waxing. It's a good idea to check your owner's manual.

18. Protect chrome against rust invasion. Chrome has millions of tiny holes which can let the moisture right through to the metal beneath. Dirt invites this invasion, so clean the chrome thoroughly and frequently, and wax it for further protection.

19. "Bandage" any minor scratches in your car's finish. Until you can have scratches refinished, keep rust from forming with a coat of touch-up paint or even a strip of cellulose tape on the scratches. Use clear nail polish on scratches in the chrome.

20. Pamper carpets and upholstery. Ground-in dirt wears out carpets before their time. Whisk or vacuum weekly and shampoo once in a while.

21. Let your Shell dealer help your car last. Your car may have cost thousands of dollars. After your home, this is probably your biggest single investment.

Treat it carefully. Feed it well. Let your Shell dealer help you. You will save money—and increase your driving pleasure, too.

Americans Knighted a Play-Actor

Gary Cooper played out his role of the symbolic American hero so perfectly, his death brought the greatest tribute ever bestowed on an actor in this country.

If this had been England, he would have been knighted long ago and Sir Gary would have added a royal laurel to his crown of distinction as one of the most successful and most respected actors in motion pictures.

But in the United States all we can do to bestow distinction is show admiration and respect. We bestowed it on Gary Cooper because he portrayed a kind of American hero most of us want to believe in but almost never find—not that our hero doesn't exist but we do not look in the right places. And perhaps we're thrown off the track because our hero doesn't look like Gary Cooper when we do find him.

It may be a long time before we find another prototype of what we wish we were. And while we're waiting for a successor it will continue to puzzle many of us that we have a need for this that we have a deeper sense of loss in the death of Gary Cooper than we have when captains of industry, finance and politics pass from among us. They are easy to replace.

Men who seem to stand taller than ordinary and attain the stature of heroes are hard to find.

Our Lengthening Perspective

To every astronaut and to every ultra-high-altitude aviator there comes a privilege never before granted to men. They see the earth from a longer perspective than it ever was viewed before.

Cmor, Shepard spoke of the "beautiful view." Maj. Gagarin told about being able to identify land masses by their shape. Test pilots who have taken up experimental planes to altitudes of more than 20 miles have shared with high-level balloonists the thrill of seeing the curvature of the earth's surface.

In a few more years men will be able to see the earth as a globe in space, the way a child sees it in miniature when he looks at a classroom globe. And in a few more than a few years men may see Earth as it appears from some other planet in their solar system—a system they may then be sharing with inhabitants of other planets.

These are no longer fantasies. They are ideas that have found backing in science and engineering. The lengthening of human perspective, once the prerogative of philosophers, is on its way to becoming a privilege of human adventurers who will change the minds of men with their deeds.

It has been less than 500 years since

Columbus ceased to fear the consequences of sailing too far in one direction, and it surely will not be another 500 years before men will have fathomed the mystery of curvature in space.

The effect on human thought and life will be profound. How will provincialism survive when men habitually see the earth in terms of land masses? What would happen to human belligerency if men discovered Earth was no farther from another inhabited planet than that planet was from Earth? Would not nationalism and ideological warfare become unthinkable if the human race learned to exist in a vertical as well as a horizontal plane?

Everyone has his own reaction to the first probes in space. For militarists, the dream is of supremacy, control and terror. For merchants, it is of leveled barriers and free exchange. For the adventuresome, it is the thrill of a new sensation, an unsurpassed challenge. For the philosopher, it is a closer grasp of wisdom. But for no one will anything remain the same as human perspective lengthens. Man is learning to see himself and his environment as no man ever saw it before.

Down Payment In Viet Nam

Secretary of State Rusk is such a sincere man it seems almost like bad sportsmanship to point out any flaw in his position. But in demanding a cease-fire in Laos before negotiating in Geneva, he was in the ridiculous position of refusing to help a woman ward off an assailant until she quit hitting him with her pocketbook.

Only one thing is going to ward off the Communists who have closed in on Laos—anti-Communist resistance. With resistance gone, they will take over the country like a boa constrictor swallows a rabbit when the rabbit quits struggling. A cease-fire in Laos is not a truce but a surrender. The United States might as well begin to admit the truth of these matters because there will be more truths to come.

Vice President Johnson has assured South Viet Nam that the United States stands ready to pour more money into its defense, now that Laos has been written off. Admittedly, South Viet Nam is a better military gamble than Laos, whose military department never did show signs of wanting to fight. Yet the United States continued to pour money into Laos—$350 million up to the middle of last year, more than $68 million of it in military hardware the Laotians showed little inclination to use.

A U.S. military assistance and advisory group has been in South Viet Nam for the last seven years. The army there is said to be the best in Southeast Asia. The United States has sought to stiffen Communist resistance in this country of 22½ million people with nearly $1.5 billion since 1954. This has been in addition to hundreds of millions pumped into the futile project of saving Indo-China before it was split up.

South Viet Nam will be the next focal point of U.S. resistance to communism in Asia, whether or not Secretary of State Rusk succeeds in stopping all further resistance to communism in Laos. There will be the usual buildup of U.S. hope.

Americans will be told about the prospects of a loyal Viet Nam government heading up a courageous resistance. It will be made to appear that all we need to do is send more money and communism will be stopped at the borders of South Viet Nam. The first $1.45 billion, it will be explained, was only a down-payment. It bought the pocketbook to be swung in case an assailant appeared.

By H. I. Phillips

baker would cut out your loaf of bread if you didn't show any enthusiasm for a horse.

THE PRE-SHRUNK, vacuum cleansed bank balance of Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Citizen will arrive if Congress passes new income tax measure making banks deduct interest for government before depositor even knows what it is. And if they have saved enough through thrift to make an investment, however small, the corporation will also have to take position that Uncle Sam gets the early bird cut.

All through history a man's bank book has been highly private. He could always go to the bank and get his interest money FIRST. But he may soon find Washington has snatched 20 per cent of it for income tax.

Millions of Americans have by hard work and thrift managed to get a little money in the bank for a rainy day but Washington now proposes to provide the rain and snatch part of the umbrella, telling people, "we can't take a chance on you being honest, rain or shine."

There are lots of folks now well along in years, perhaps retired, who followed the advice, "Be frugal and have something to live on in the pinches." Now even the interest on their savings is to be up for grabs. Shrinkage of savings is guaranteed by the government. Decent Americans are willing to pay taxes on interest and dividends but they resent being regarded as probably dishonest, unreliable and furtive.

This tax measure can bring back the horse collar, mattress, antique base and hollow tree stump as the main reliance of the thrifty.

"Oh What a Beautiful Morning..."

Inside Labor By Victor Riesel

The "second siege" of Valley Forge, which ended at 4 o'clock in the morning of May 9, '61 explains in part why informed Senate investigators believe that our space race and missile base program cost at least $200 million more than it should—because of wildcat strikes and labor feuds.

Victor Riesel

The besieging at Valley Forge took place outside a hush-hush General Electric Space Simulator installation now under construction there. But before I turn to the story, I should report that at least one U.S. senator believes the strikes and slowdowns cost the government at least $50 million at Cape Canaveral alone.

He should know. He listened to every word of the recent McClellan committee hearings. He heard contractor after contractor report that they had to figure the Florida test base labor costs at twice those on commercial jobs.

How could such costs roll up? Focus in on Valley Forge for just a part of the story.

THIS BEGINS with a secret government decision to ask GE to build a $6 million Space Environmental Simulator.

GE assigned this to its Missile and Space Vehicle Department, in Philadelphia. There the astro scientists began planning the only space simulator in the world which could provide the final tests for fullsize space vehicles "prior to actual space launching."

There were other astro projects involved but the one that fascinates me here is the unwhisperable one on which the U.S. depends for manned orbiting of the earth.

The government wanted the space simulator ready for use by the beginning of November. Apparently the White House believed that was a date to be conjured with, not only for success in outer space but for international reasons right here on earth.

GE construction began at a site near the community of Valley Forge. By April 19 the project had some 625 building and construction workers on the job.

Thirty of them were members of Local 542, Operating Engineers—a local which had had a mighty rough time of it until hoods inside were exposed during the first McClellan investigative saga.

ON APRIL 19 those 30 men struck, though their contract ran until May 1. They began picketing, though the other building unions had agreed to go along with the Philadelphia area contractors on what seemed to them to be a fine pay pact.

Thus the operating engineers were running an unofficial stoppage. Their fellow unionists denounced the walkout, which was keeping GE from building up to a force of some 2,000 this summer. And some 200 of the other unionists walked through the lines.

But this dwindled and the job had to be shut down completely after May 1, when the operating engineers could hit the bricks officially.

In effect, they were asking for a package increase of $73.84 for a 40-hour week.

Mark this, it is not for a week's work. It is what they asked for as a raise for maintenance engineers.

For oilers, they sought $34.95 raise. Also they wanted a union hiring hall, which pretty much would have given them control of those placed on the job. And most observers believed that the strikers also wanted some of the toughest work restrictions they've run into recently.

This walkout was discussed in the White House and by Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg.

THIRTY MEN were delaying construction of a laboratory which was desperately needed by the nation. How desperately? The answer came from Art Steinfeldt, manager of relations and utilities for the GE Dept.

"The continuation of this strike," he said, "will seriously affect important parts of the nation's space program. One of the critical facilities under construction is the Space Simulation Laboratory. This will be used by engineers and scientists to test the operation of full-size space vehicles prior to actual space launching."

The operating engineers were aware of this fact when they were summoned to Washington. At 3 p.m. Monday, May 8, they sat down with federal mediation chief, Bill Simkin. Not until the following 4 a.m. did they quit arguing and agree to return.

Now it is presumed the lost time will be made up—probably by overtime work at premium pay. But the senators who have been probing missile strikes are not satisfied.

They are willing to give Arthur Goldberg and arbitration experts and the unions and contractors a chance to work things out. But if they don't in a month or so, Senators McClellan and Mundt will ask for the equivalent of no-strike laws on the bases.

After all, 30 is a very small part of we, the people.

Speed Of Change

By BARRETT MCGURN

Native Self-Assurance Soars In Africa

TUNIS — A reporter revisiting former French North Africa is impressed with the speed with which change is coming. Happily it is not all for the worse.

The changes concern individuals as well as groups. Among the individuals one of the most striking examples of personal evolution is Tunisia's president, Habib Bourguiba, who is President Kennedy's guest this week.

Six years ago when this correspondent first met him President Bourguiba was a rumpled agitator under arrest in Paris. North Africans who recognized him as an idealistic and effective leader were keeping him supplied with food packages, more, incidentally, than he could cope with. This reporter carried home a pound of slightly stale Tunisian cookies, a gift from the prisoner.

Today, as Washington is seeing, President Bourguiba is a dapper, self-confident and responsible North African. He is determined to contribute to the decolonization of the Dark Continent but conscious of the desirability and probable necessity of close economic ties with the West.

Ate Salad With Fingers

The Bourguiba who startled a reporter by darting his fingers into our common salad bowl to spear lettuce leaves as we lunched in a second-class Paris hotel in 1955 is the same one who is honored now by a six-foot-tall bronze statue in the main square of Menzel Bourguiba, the renamed former Ferryville on strategic Bizerte Bay.

The old name of the town had honored former French Premier Jules Ferry, a builder of the now dismembered French empire.

The Bourguiba whose suit in 1955 showed the inadequacies of prison tailor service is the same one who is portrayed now in tails and amid a shower of decorations on Tunisian postage stamps.

The handsomest street in Tunis, capital of the former French protectorate, is named for Bourguiba now.

Significantly and encouragingly, however, another of Tunis's most important avenues is still called after Paris. Bourguiba and the Tunisians are free but in eliminating French control they have not become anti-French. In that is hope.

The 57-year-old Bourguiba entered politics at 19. He studied political science and law in Paris, and while there married a Frenchwoman widowed during World War I. They have one son.

He was admitted to the bar in Tunis and formed his own party in the late '20s. He was promptly exiled to the desert by the French.

Returning in 1936 he continued to agitate for Tunisian independence. The French imprisoned him in Paris in 1940. The Germans released him after three years.

In the mid-'50s Premier Mendes-France asked him to return to Paris to negotiate an end to the Civil War. He was chosen Tunisia's first premier and elected its first president.

Statement Reflects Attitude

Perhaps his attitude is best reflected in this statement made to the Tunisian Parliament:

"Tunisia's pro-Western policies have enabled us to avoid trouble and the armies of the United Arab Republic will not destroy this situation."

"The United Arab Republic is not aware of the danger of communism. Once the Iron Curtain drops there is no escaping from communism. One the other hand, it is always possible to leave the Western camp."

The confidence and assurance of Bourguiba are reflected by his people.

Now, a visit to brush-roofed Moslem native huts along the Algerian border brings outspoken defiance of continued French control anywhere in North Africa. The men of mid-teens to early middle age are absent. They feel they have a patriotic duty to go to Algeria to fight and without pay.

It is all different and would have been hard to conceive a half decade ago. Direct European power has shriveled and native self-assurance, seen in the way heads and shoulders are carried high, has soared. It is new but not necessarily bad.

Bourguiba is not the only reasonable and competent North African leader to emerge. There are some polished and intelligent patriots in the Algerian provisional government.

More painful readjustments are coming but there seems hope that the old order may yet be replaced by a new native order rather than by chaos.

'Ain't That Much Money'

By TRUMAN TWILL

And another thing, before Cmdr. Shepard drops out of sight and out of mind: He earned $14.38 by climbing into that capsule and being hurled through space so his government could say at last it had done something right.

That was less than some of the boys earned for punching the time clock at Cape Canaveral that day. Cmdr. Shepard draws an extra $230 a month for being on flying duty, in addition to his regular pay. He draws no special pay for being an astronaut. He does that for free.

The way it figured out, his ride in the capsule counts on the flying time he must put in each month for the extra $230 and therefore his 15-minute flight down the rocket range netted him $14.38. It looks ridiculous compared with the fancy figures mentioned in recent investigations of monkey business at Cape Canaveral.

Everybody who isn't making a killing there is hoping to cut a piece of the cake eventually. Money-grubbers made such pests of themselves trying to talk Shepard and his fellow astronauts into endorsing gimcracks that they sent for an attorney who is representing them for no fee to camp out on the premises and scare off the quick-buck brothers.

He made this statement: "The boys have not undertaken this mission for personal profit and it is not fair for anyone else to try to enrich themselves by using their names." But their names have been used, along with their pictures and other suggestions of a tie-up between their project and commerce. It's something to think about.

There "ain't that much money." People who think the earth and the people in it exist solely for the purpose of making money never will understand why, but there really ain't.

It makes no sense to them that human beings do things from a sense of dedication and purpose—that people teach school because they enjoy helping children, that ministers and missionaries and social workers spend their lives in human service, that scholars forego the pursuit of income.

And currently it makes no sense to them that a group of young men will work themselves to a frazzle to make space exploration possible when there's no likelihood of profit. Surely these people could be doing something useful with their lives, like peddling securties, or figuring out capital gains gimmicks on oil wells.

The least they could do would be to organize a strong union and make the taxpayers pay through the nose for their straight time and twice that much for overtime. Anyone who would fly 115 miles high in a rig that never had been checked out before for a measly $14.38 must be some kinda nut.

It was even worse than that. Cmdr. Shepard hadn't even figured out the $14.38. He didn't know or care about pay; that wasn't why he was an astronaut.

Many Americans have wondered why they got such a bang out of what he said and how he looked when they got acquainted with him. There may be a dozen different reasons, but the one that may be most important is that it had been such a long time since we'd heard of anybody doing anything for free. The sound of the cash register bell was so lovely when it stopped.

Matter of Fact

The armadillo looks like he was made up of parts left over from other animals. His head is like a lizard's. He has ears like a mule. His claws are like a bear's. And his tail looks like it came from a rat. The one thing distinctly his own is the heavy suit of armor he wears. It's like nothing in this world.

The Indians of the Pacific Northwest lived by the sea and were brave boatmen and great fishermen. All of them, that is, except any who were born twins. The Indians believed that twins were related to the salmon and so twins were forbidden to go near the water for fear they would turn back into fish. In some tribes, twins were not even allowed to touch or eat fish for same reason.

Deaths, Funerals

Edward B. Bucher

EAST PALESTINE — Edward B. Bucher, 75, a retired railroad brakeman, died at 11 p.m. Monday at his home at 218 E. Martin St. He had been in failing health with a heart ailment.

He was born Aug. 29, 1885, in Morlan, O., a son of Joseph and Jane Barnes Bucher.

He was married June 10, 1915, to Blanche Everly.

He worked for the Pennsylvania Railroad for 48 years, retiring five years ago.

He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Besides his wife, he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Jane Pesa of Youngstown; a son, Sgt. Edward B. Bucher Jr., stationed at Fort Sill, Okla.; three grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. A. B. Critchfield of Wooster.

Services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Van Dyke Funeral Home, with Rev. William Robb, pastor of the Covenant United Presbyterian Church, officiating. Burial will be in Glenview Cemetery.

Friends may call from 7 to 9 p.m. Wednesday at the funeral home.

knowledge of English before they are considered for selection.

4. They are chosen for qualities of character, personality, leadership, and adaptability.

5. They live in U.S. homes as members of the family, with the same responsibilities and rights as the other children of the family.

6. They cannot stay in the U.S. longer than one year; the purpose of the AFS program is not to Americanize them but for them to return to their own countries as ambassadors of good will. Less than 2 per cent return to the U.S. permanently.

Perhaps more important than any of the above are:

7. Responsibility for the student is shared by the host family, the local AFS Chapter, and AFS in New York.

8. The program is planned and supervised at all times by local AFS Chapters and AFS NY.

9. The program is a community-wide project, reaching and benefiting as many students and local groups as are interested by both foreign and American student participants.

10. All AFS local activities are carried out on a volunteer basis, as is the case with a great deal of the work done at AFS NY and abroad.

In addition, a three-week bus trip at the end of the school year gives the student a broader picture of America, although the foundation of his impressions will be the thorough knowledge of his host community.

Lasting friendships are made with students of many nationalities, it is pointed out.

AFS also sponsors the "Americans Abroad" programs, which show American teenagers life in foreign families and schools.

Councilman Named At East Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — James H. Lynch, a successful candidate at the May primary for the Third Ward Council post on the Republican ticket, was appointed to that position by other Council members Monday night.

Lynch will fill the unexpired term of John A. Dean, who resigned and moved to Washington, D. C.

Lynch, an employee of the Franklin Furniture Co. of Columbiana, has served as a parttime patrolman since 1952.

Council delayed action on the purchase of new parking meters after being advised by a group of merchants that N. Market St. businessmen want the meters taken out.

The merchants oppose metered parking because, they claim, it places them at a disadvantage with nearby shopping plazas where parking is permitted free. They also declared that the meters have not functioned properly in the past.

Councilmen pointed out that abolishment of the meters would mean a loss in revenue to the city of about $6,000 annually. They requested the merchants to meet with Council again at its next regular meeting June 5 to further discuss the proposal to eliminate the meters.

Elizabeth class of the Lutheran Church met in the home of Mrs. R. R. McKenzie with Mrs. William Needham as associate hostess. Mrs. Needham presided at the business session. Mrs. Emile Guchemund led devotions. Mrs. Elizabeth DeJane and Mrs. Vera Berg will be June hostesses.

Busy Bee class of the Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. Larry Yerace Thursday. Mrs. Leslie Tingle was in charge of the business meeting. Mrs. Evan Jones led devotions. The following officers were elected: Mrs. Don Weikart, president; Mrs. Norman Kornbau, vice president; secretary, Mrs. Nellie Atkinson; assistant secretary, Mrs. Walter Warner; treasurer, Mrs. Clarence Baker; and assistant treasurer, Mrs. Ted Riddle. The annual picnic dinner will be held at 6 p.m. on June 8 in the social room of the church.

Mrs. Peter Gwynne Jr. has returned to her home after assisting in the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ball of Akron, while her grandson was a patient at Children's Hospital in Akron.

David Gwynne of Cincinnati visited at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gwynne recently. He was then accompanied back to Cincinnati where he left for basic training in the National Guard at Fort Dix, N.J.

Goshen Center Ruritan Club Chartered

The Goshen Center Ruritan Club, sponsored by Damascus Ruritans, is the 38th Ruritan Club to be organized in Ohio. Sixteen men from the Goshen Center area were present at the charter meeting Monday night in Goshen Grange hall, where dinner was served by women of the grange.

Bill Miskimins, Ken Hutcheson, Herb Weingart, directors; and Daryl Weingart, treasurer. Members of the Damascus club explained the Ruritan objectives to the Goshen Center group, which will hold meetings the third Monday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

following national elections, but his administration has been plagued by high unemployment, inflation, a split within his Democratic party and criticism that he was not vigorous enough in rooting out corruption remaining from the Rhee regime.

Late today Gen. Chang conferred for 30 minutes with President Yun Po-sun but refused to tell newsmen anything that was said.

Yun also talked with U.S. officials at his home. However, the constitution put into effect after Syngman Rhee's ouster 13 months ago made a figurehead of the presidency and put government power in the hands of the premier, who is elected by the lower house of Parliament.

The rebel junta ordered martial law throughout the nation, a curfew from 7 p.m. to 5 a.m., closed all banks and schools and decreed censorship for Korean newspapers and news agencies. There was no attempt, however, to censor news reports being sent abroad, and newsmen were permitted to move about freely.

Seoul radio, in rebel hands, said international air traffic would not be disrupted. But one flight of the Civil Air Transport turned back while en route from Tokyo, and an official of the airline said the U.S. Embassy in Seoul advised it could not guarantee the safety of the passengers. A Northwest Airlines flight from Tokyo was cancelled before take-off.

A spokesman for Gen. Magruder said the coup would have no bearing on the U.N. troops guarding the 155-mile long, 2½-mile wide demilitarized zone which separates Communist North Korea from South Korea.

Most of the line is manned by South Korean troops who reportedly were unaware of the coup. The American 1st Cavalry Division is in charge of a small sector of the line.

The U.S. 7th Infantry Division is in reserve in the west central sector behind the demilitarized zone.

Columbiana GOP Women Hear Bettis

COLUMBIANA — State Representative J. Warren Bettis made his first local appearance as an elected official Monday night when he addressed an audience of 40 at the Columbiana Republican Women's Club meeting.

The freshman legislator discussed various appropriation measures under consideration and also explained the operation of the State Legislature. Also guests at the meeting were Walter Hunston and Galen Greenisen, Republican county commissioners.

Mrs. Sarah Hunt, club president, presided.

others being the jobless pay bill which DiSalle vetoed in March and the budget bill passed by the House last week.

If it becomes law, about $15 million—now withheld annually from motor vehicle license fees to help operate the Highway Safety Department—would be distributed to counties (about $10.5 million), cities and villages ($3.7 million) and townships ($750,000). These governments already get the rest of this fee income.

The Ohio Highway Department has battled it all the way because the safety department would have to be financed from the last two cents of the gasoline tax.

This is revenue of which the Highway Department has had exclusive use since the tax was imposed two years ago.

E. Palestine School Contracts Delayed

EAST PALESTINE—The Board of Education, meeting Monday night at the high school, took no action on bids submitted last Thursday for the $650,000 school construction projects.

The board set a special session for Monday when contracts will be awarded.

The projects include construction of a 10-room elementary school and a six-room addition to the high school.

The board also declined to appoint a successor to Howard J. Weyers, high school football coach who resigned, effective at the end of the school year, to accept a similar post at Maple Heights High School. Over 40 applications have been received for the job.

The 1961-62 school calendar was adopted. Schools will reopen in the fall on Sept. 6 and close June 8 next year.

Johnson Pledges Continued U.S. Aid to Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — U.S. Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson came to this pro-Western nation today with a pledge of U.S. advance of communism in neighboring Laos.

"We are determined to maintain adequate and responsible strength in the free world," the vice president said in an airport speech. "We will honor our commitments for the use of freedom. We will stand by our friends—none more so than you, the Thai people."

Johnson described his Southeast Asian tour as a "mission of purpose" for President Kennedy to consult with leaders in this part of the world and see what must be done to check Communist advances.

"Together we will press on toward our mutual goal—to educate our youth, to eliminate disease and to develop those resources with which this land of the free is so amply blessed," he said.

Talks have been arranged between Johnson and Thai leaders, who are seeking more U.S. military and economic aid.

Johnson was expected to respond with a pledge of more help to check the growing neutralist sentiment in Thailand fanned by Communist successes in Southeast Asia.

For one thing, Johnson reportedly will propose that small but highly trained and well equipped military units from each of the eight members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization be stationed in Thailand as a SEATO military "presence" in the area. They would constitute a warning of SEATO's determination to act militarily if called upon, sources close to Johnson said.

FACES HITSKIP CHARGE

A 16-year-old Salem boy is to appear before juvenile authorities today after being charged with hit-skip on S. Broadway at 10:10 p.m. Monday. Police said the youth backed his car into the rear of a parked car owned by Russell C. Gibbs, 35, of 432 N. Lincoln Ave., causing minor damage to the Gibbs car. The youth then fled the scene but two girls who witnessed the accident reported the incident to police. Police later matched paint on the youth's car to paint that had been deposited on the Gibbs car in the accident.

New Waterford Sewer Line Begun

NEW WATERFORD — Work began Monday on installation of the 10-inch sewage line from the site of the proposed sewage disposal plant to the village, Mayor William E. Ferguson reported.

Approximately seven miles of connecting sewers will flow into the line.

Herman Brothers of Youngstown is installing the sewage main at a cost of $169,000.

The $62,088 contract for construction of the disposal plant has been awarded to Hextro Inc. of Girard. The firm has staked out the site, located just south of the village on Rt. 46, but work is not yet in progress.

New Waterford voters passed a $35,000 bond issue for the project last November. The village also secured a $166,000 loan from the Federal Housing Agency in Chicago earlier this year. The loan is to be retired over a 40-year period through mortgage revenue bonds.

Other funds include a grant from the federal government of $32,200.

The remainder of money is to come from special assessments to be retired during a 20-year period.

31st Mobile Support Group Commended

LISBON — Columbiana County Commissioners at their regular meeting Monday commended the 31st Mobile Support Group for its work in Columbiana County for the past nine years.

The state is now demobilizing the group and will not support it in the future.

Commissioners approved the travel allowances of Dog Warden Russell Reichenbach of North Georgetown and Assistant Harold McCall who attended the eastern Ohio dog wardens meeting in Carrollton Monday.

The next regular meeting of the commissioners will be Thursday.

Matter of Fact

The hot springs, for which the city of Hot Springs, Ark., was named, were believed to have been visited by Hernando DeSoto in 1541. The first settler near the springs built a cabin there in 1807. Two years later John Percival bought the cabin and built others which he rented to visitors who came to bathe in the waters. In 1832 the government set the land aside as a reservation but it was not until 1921 that Hot Springs became officially known as a national park.

Teen-Age Boy Admits Choking Mother To Death

GLENDALE, Calif. (AP) — "Now that I think it over, I'm half-sorry," a teen-age high school honor student told police after admitting he beat his mother with an axe handle and then choked her to death.

Officers said Ronald Dennis Wolff, 15, walked into police headquarters Monday, tossed his house keys on the desk and calmly reported: "I have something to report. I've just killed my mother with an axe—an axe handle."

Police found his mother, Mrs. Beulah Wolff, 41, a divorcee, on the floor of their home in this Los Angeles suburb.

Mrs. Wolff, a prominent clubwoman and author of several volumes of poetry, was the daughter of Albert Newton Johnson, former Minnesota state legislator.

Ronald told officers his mother had pestered him about a bizarre burglary arrest.

Police said Ronald got in trouble for the first time three weeks ago when he was discovered stuck for four hours in a chimney.

The youth told police he planned to climb down the chimney, anesthetize a teen-age girl and take pictures of her. A burglary charge is pending against the youth as a result of the incident.

Ronald's father, Emil Otto Wolff, 42, an electronics engineer, was stunned by the tragedy. He said he and Mrs. Wolff were divorced six years ago. He had taken her and Ronald to dinner on Mother's Day.

Mrs. John William Stamp

Mary Ruth Barcus Wed To John William Stamp

Miss Mary Ruth Barcus and John William Stamp pledged their marriage vows Saturday afternoon before the altar of the First United Presbyterian Church.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the bride's uncle, Rev. Paul Baxter of Ashland, pastor of the Redhaw Evangelical United Brethren Church. White floral arrangements, palms and seven-branch candelabra graced the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. J. Edgar Barcus of Salem, Iowa, and the late Mary Weiznecker Barcus, and the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Verner E. Rich of 589 Woodland Ave., with whom she made her home. Mr. and Mrs. J. Floyd Stamp of New Garden Road are the parents of the bridegroom.

Thomas Williams sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar. He was accompanied by the organist, Miss Janet Williams.

For her wedding, the bride chose a ballerina length gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta, fashioned with a scoop neckline and bracelet-length sleeves. The waistline was accented with a satin cummerbund with a satin bow in the back, with streamers extending to the scalloped hemline. Her fingertip veil was attached to a crown. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid and feathered carnations. She was given in marriage by her father.

Nile green silk organza over taffeta gowns were worn by the bride's attendants. They were designed with short sleeves, with a fabric rosebud at the waistline in the back, with streamers to the hemline of the ballerina-length skirts. Their matching headbands were of leaves with theatre veils.

The maid of honor, Miss Janet DelVichio of Salem, carried a colonial bouquet of yellow roses and daisies, while the bridesmaids, Miss Marjorie Hiltbrand of Salem and Miss Judy Orr of Houghton, N.Y., carried pink roses.

Donald Stamp of Cincinnati was best man for his brother. The ushers were Gary Stamp, another brother of the bridegroom, and Ted Schaefer of Salem.

The bride's stepmother wore a lavender dress with matching hat and a corsage of white carnations, while the bride's aunt chose an aqua print dress and white hat with a yellow rose corsage. Mrs. Stamp was attired in a beige dress and hat and a corsage of pink roses.

Two hundred guests greeted the couple at the reception in Fellowship Hall. The bride's table was laid with white organdy over satin and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake. Arrangements of snapdragons and mums and silver candelabra completed the appointments.

The hostesses were Mrs. Donald Stamp, Miss Jeanne Pim and Miss Elma Auld. Miss Cathy Stamp, cousin of the bridegroom, registered the guests from Ashland, Alliance, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Dayton, Sebring, Toledo, Salem, Lexington, Ky., Houghton, N.Y., Salem, Iowa, Ypsilanti and Flint, Mich.

Miss Auld, aunt of the bridegroom, entertained at a buffet supper for 70 guests, following the reception.

The couple are 1958 graduates of Salem High School. Mrs. Stamp attended Houghton College, Houghton, N.Y., and Kent State University. She is employed as a teacher at Knox Local School. Her husband attended Ohio State University and is employed as a mechanic by Paulin and Shook.

For her wedding trip to Washington, D.C., the bride wore a beige sheath with matching accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. They will reside at 631 E. 9th St.

Mr. and Mrs. Stamp were hosts at the rehearsal dinner at Timberlanes Friday evening.

Women's Fellowship Sets Breakfast For Wednesday

The May fellowship breakfast of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church will be held Wednesday at 9 a.m. at the church.

"Providing Tools for the Task in Missions" was the program topic for the group meetings held recently. The tools were audio - visual material, printed matter, Christian literature and the duties of the World Council of Churches.

Dorcas, Ruth, Martha

Mrs. George Huston of the Dorcas Group was leader for the day when the afternoon groups, Dorcas, Ruth and Martha, met at the church. She opened the meeting with a poem, "The Lost Prayer."

Mrs. Harrison Kyle, worship chairman, led devotions, with "I Would Be True" as the opening song. "A Way of Hope" was the theme of her meditation. She read from Romans and I Peter, and closed with a poem, "Faith and Hope," and a prayer.

Mrs. Richard Wilson, program chairman, presented the program, assisted by Mrs. Burrow Jones, Mrs. Kenneth Clay, Mrs. James Semple and Miss Celia Gailey.

The hostesses were Mrs. Martin Roth, Mrs. Nell Ogden, Mrs. Warren Brown, Mrs. Frank Heston, Mrs. Anthony Brelth Jr. and Mrs. Arthur Shinn.

The number of members present were: Dorcas, 17; Ruth, 10; and Martha, 15.

Mary Group
Mrs. Richard Borton of Hawley Ave. was hostess to 14 members of the Mary Group and a guest, Mrs. Harold Harris, leader, opened the meeting with the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. Joe Herbert divided the members into two groups for the program. Mrs. Don Schnorrenberg led the group on audio - visual aids, and Miss Alice Stallsmith's group discussed the preparation of printed material. The leaders reported to the group as a whole and Mrs. Herbert gave a summary of her findings.

Mrs. Gleckler was assisted by Mrs. Fred Schramm and Mrs. Schnorrenberg.

The next meeting will be a coverdish dinner at the home of Mrs. Keith Heinemann of Goshen Road.

East Rochester

A mother-daughter banquet was held at the Bayard Methodist Church. Participants in the program were Mrs. Robert Hole, Mrs. Robert and daughter Sheryl, Mrs. Ella Taylor, and Mrs. C. N. McVey of Alliance.

Mrs. William Merrick presented awards to the following persons: Mrs. Ella Taylor, Mrs. Foster Treep, Mrs. Clark.

William Evans, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hill and Mrs. Minnie Walker attended calling hours in Alliance for Mrs. Sandra Mazzebero Friday.

Mrs. Cecil Rogers of Winona called on her mother, Mrs. Minnie Walker Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Gould and John Kreeger of Wellsville and John Riden called on Mrs. Nellie Neel recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Chales Senevel of Salem called on Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Smith Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davis of Minerva called on his sister and brother, Mrs. Nellie Neel and John Davis. They also called on Mrs. Clarence Betz.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hawkins of Beaver Falls were recent visitors.

Indians Rap 21 Hits in 13-2 Massacre of Red Sox

Wynn Hawkins To Pitch Tonight

BOSTON (AP)—The first massacre of Fenway Park by the Indians took place on Sept. 13, 1957, and Cleveland collected all the scalps that night.

The Indians performed another raid on Beantown territory Monday—this time in broad daylight—as they banged out 21 hits and romped to a 13-2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox behind Jim (Mudcat) Grant's three-hitter.

That 1957 contest was a night affair and the Indians had 21 hits en route to a 16-3 victory behind Mike Garcia. Some oddities of the two games:

Vic Wertz knocked in five runs for the Tribe in 1957. Now he's doing the same job for Boston and drew an 0-for-4 horseshollar.

Piersall Clubs Four Hits

The center fielder for the Red Sox four seasons ago was a fellow by the name of Jim Piersall, who now wears Cleveland colors. Piersall collected four hits in six trips for the Indians Monday.

The 21-hit total was the highest for Cleveland since that wild night in Fenway.

The bonanza hit production—something the Tribe has lacked this campaign—took some notice

Area Merchants Bowling Loop Holds Annual Banquet

The annual bowling banquet for the Area Merchants League of Saxon Lanes was held last evening at the Saxon Club.

This year a total of 12 teams competed for trophies. Eljer Pattern came out on top with a 79-53 won and lost record.

Members of the winning team receiving trophies were Bill Odorizzi, Emerson Locke, Dave Lane, Bruce Whitcomb, Harold Burrier, Jim Adams and Sam Adams.

Cardinal Litho was second, only ½ game off the pace with a 78½-53½ record. The other teams in the league were Home Savings, 74-58; S & H Co., 71½-60½; Myers Equipment, 69-63; Robbys Knoll Golf, 67-65; First National Bank, 66½-65½; Valley View No. 1, 64½-67½; Zimmerman Furnace, 60-72; Peoples Lumber Co., 57-75; Saxon Lanes, 56-76; and Valley View No. 2, 49-83.

Team high series went to Cardinal Litho with 2677. First National

Basketball Obit May Be Written

Scandals Bring De-emphasis Action

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—A gambling scandal that has reached into two major North Carolina colleges may spell the doom of big time college basketball in the state.

A plan of de-emphasis is expected to be presented next Monday when the trustees of the consolidated University of North Carolina hold their regular quarterly meeting here.

North Carolina State College Coach Everett Case may have written the obituary Monday when he said:

"Basketball is meant to be a game. Down here it has turned into a war. I'm ready for a truce."

Three of Case's players, including team captain Stan Niewirowski, have been charged with bribe-taking in the point shaving scandal which earlier had reached the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

The two institutions are under the control of the consolidated university's board.

Meanwhile, District Solicitor (prosecutor) Lester Chalmers said new warrants have been issued charging Joseph Green of New York City with bribing two N.C. State players to fix the N.C. State games at Duke and North Carolina.

Green was identified as a co-conspirator with Aaron Wagman, charged earlier by New York authorities as a key figure in the scandal.

Chalmers indicated more warrants were still to come. In response to a question, he said it appeared they would involve gamblers rather than players.

Gov. Terry Sanford told a news conference Monday he feels careful consideration should be given to de-emphasis of big time basketball.

SALEM, LEETONIA CLASH

The Salem Merchants, who dropped their County-City League baseball opener Sunday to Columbiana, will be looking for their first victory of the season Wednesday at Centennial Park when they tangle with Leetonia in a 6 p.m. fray.

UMPIRES TO MEET

Members of the Salem Umpires Association will meet at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Memorial Building. All umpires are urged to attend as schedules will be handed out, according to President Don Abrams.

Notre Dame Varsity Buries Old Timers

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN Associated Press Sports Writer

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame's once-famous football foundry, reacting in the last few years as if it's strikebound, shows signs of some stoking up this season.

Salem High Golfers To Play In Tourney

Four Salem Senior High School golfers who will be entering the district scholastic tournament at Hubbard on Friday should be determined today, according to Coach Bob Miller, physical education director.

The four local entries in the tourney will come from the group of Dave Schuster, Larry Sommers, Gene Sommers, Dick Huffman, Jim Schuster, and Dick Stark. These boys represent the top talent turned up in Mr. Miller's intramural golf program. Salem has not been competing in golf at the varsity level but this could be the beginning of such a move.

A total of 27 teams are entered in the district tournament at Hubbard. Qualifiers will advance to the state tournament at Columbus on May 25-27.

Other entries from Columbiana County are Columbiana and Beaver Local. Tee time for all three Columbiana County schools is 9:30 a.m. Friday.

Pro Fight Leaves Boxer Near Death

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Lightweight boxer Harry Campbell, an Olympic quarter-finalist last year, battled for his life after suffering head injuries in a pro bout Monday night.

An operation was ordered early today to relieve pressure on Campbell's brain caused by a hemorrhage.

The 23-year-old San Jose State College student from Detroit, Mich., was knocked down twice in the 10th round of a losing bout with Al Medrano of Sacramento.

The bell saved him from a knockout, and then he slumped in his corner unconscious. Dr. Don Lastreto, ring physician, ordered the Negro fighter taken to Park Emergency Hospital, next door to the Kezar Pavilion fight scene.

Still unconscious, Campbell was transferred to St. Luke's Hospital where brain specialist Dr. Edward Keller ordered surgery.

Medrano waited anxiously at the hospital during the operation.

Salem at Canton Relays Tonight

Quaker Vaulters Seek Meet Record

Coach Karl Zellers' Columbiana County Class AA champion Salem Quakers will join 10 other schools in the eighth annual Canton Twilight Relays tonight at Fawcett Stadium.

Joining the Quakers in the invitational meet will be Akron North, Alliance, Massillon, Warren Harding, Boardman, Canton Lehman, Lincoln, McKinley, Timken and Central.

McKinley is the defending champion.

28 Teams Enter District 'A' Meet Here Today

Led by speedy Bill Hughes, the Braceville Bees, champions of Trumbull County, are the favorites to capture the District Class A track and field title today at Salem's Reilly Stadium.

A field of 28 teams from Mahoning, Columbiana, Trumbull, Portage and Stark Counties will be shooting for a trip to the State Meet at Columbus. The top four qualifiers in each event will earn the trip.

Late entries from Western Reserve, Rootstown, Maplewood and Tuslaw swelled the total entry list to 28 schools, one fewer than last year.

Area schools entered include Columbiana, Fairfield-Waterford, Greenford, Jackson-Milton, Leetonia, Lowellville, McDonald, Sebring, North Lima, Springfield Local and United.

Finals in the running events are scheduled to get under way at 7:30 tonight.

Diane Dawson and Beverly Cadill, students at Salem Senior High School, will pass out the medals and trophies at today's meet.

Salem placed fifth in last year's 10-team field. McKinley, Alliance and Massillon are expected to fight it out for the championship this year.

SALEM'S CHANCES suffered a severe blow when Ron Janovec, the leading scorer in the Columbiana County meet last week, pulled a thigh muscle while running the anchor leg on the winning half mile relay team.

Janovec was out of school yesterday and Coach Zellers says the big senior definitely won't be able to do any running tonight and possibly won't even be able to throw the shot—an event in which he holds the school record.

The loss of Janovec will hurt the Quakers in several of the events. He and Jake Evans are the fastest dash men on the team.

Salem's best chance for a victory tonight appears to be in the pole vault where Rick Sulea and Freddy Harshman give the Quakers a strong one-two punch. If both of these boys go as high as they did in the county meet, they will set a new Canton Relay record. The record was set last year by Mike Root and Charles Ross whose combined jumps totaled 22 ft. 6 in.

SALEM'S JIM LEHWALD and Charles Horn placed second last year at Canton. Their combined height was 22 ft. 2 in.

Salem also should get a place in the discus with Don Davidson and Bill Beery on the firing line. However, it is not likely that they will be able to defeat the Alliance entry which will include Jim Davidson who has thrown the discus 161 ft. 3 in. this year. Beery and Davidson both went just over the 140 ft. mark in the county meet.

The Mariners Group of Trinity United Presbyterian Church enjoyed a hayride Saturday evening and later returned to the parsonage where Rev. and Mrs. C. O. Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Dixon were hosts.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dixon, skippers, conducted the business, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Yarwood led the devotional period.

Plans were made to hold a family picnic June 11 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bergert.

THE CHRISTIAN YOUTH Fellowship of First Christian Church met Sunday afternoon instead of evening and took a program to the residents of the County Home for their Sunday worship service.

Linda Zitto gave the invocation and Dick Zitto delivered the sermonette. Scripture was read by Cheri Finch, and Carmen Gibson sang "Swing Lo Sweet Chariot." Group singing was a feature, with Rev. William Spangler at the piano.

Cheryl Walton told of the prayer books which the group had compiled and distributed among the residents.

The group visited the hospital building and left prayer books for the patients there.

The group also gave treats to the residents.

A PROGRAM HAS BEEN arranged for the senior adult conference to be held at the Mineral Ridge Presbyterian Church Saturday, May 27, at 10 a.m. through 3 p.m. Anyone may attend.

There will be a noon meal and registrations are due Monday, May 22. C. D. Libby or Rev. Paul T. Gerrard may be contacted for arrangements.

Guests in the afternoon in the Freshly home were their other two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Eells and family of Elkton and Mrs. Frank Ulbrich of Unity.

Verdict Expected In Officer's Trial

LISBON — A verdict is expected this afternoon in the larceny trial of Police Lt. Thomas A. Walker of East Liverpool, indicted by the April Grand Jury of the theft of a television set from the office of Chief A. J. Radeschi.

Closing arguments were to be held at 1 p.m., after which the jury will be charged by Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzard.

The jury was excused this morning because Lt. Walker's attorney, Frank Springer of East Palestine, had another commitment.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw rested his case at 1 p.m. after Chief Radeschi testified the set being held as evidence was taken from his office around Feb. 11 and located March 2 at the home of Mrs. Audre Demoratz.

He said she told him Lt. Walker gave her the set about three weeks before and signed a statement to that effect.

Mrs. Demoratz and Lt. Walker, testifying later, admitted that he took the set to her apartment but stated that he had merely lent it to her. She admitted that Lt. Walker was a visitor in her apartment several times a week.

Beams TV Lessons To 6-State Area

Flying Classroom Produces Varied Student Reactions

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—The younger ones giggled and asked for more. Some teen-agers criticized, and the teachers, for the most part, reserved judgment.

This was the varied reaction Monday when a DC6 "flying classroom" jammed with electronic equipment circled over north central Indiana and beamed classroom instruction to a six-state Midwest area via television.

It was the first demonstration lessons beamed by the Midwest Program on Airborne Television Instruction. The signal was sent to 32 demonstration schools, which will evaluate the program, and several participating schools which tuned in to get a glimpse of what to expect and to test their equipment.

Officials at MPATI's headquarters on the Purdue University campus in West Lafayette, reported reception good in most areas of Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan and Ohio. But Milwaukee missed the premier because of technical problems.

In most areas, reaction and reception were mixed.

The younger pupils and their teachers seemed to like what they got. The high school set was more critical.

A junior class at Manual High School in Indianapolis wasn't so impressed by a U.S. history lesson.

"He quoted too much of what other people say, instead of giving us the facts," said Mike Kinman.

"The teacher seemed to lack preparation and spoke in a monotonous voice," said Sheryl Fix.

Manual teacher, John Krueger, warned the pupils not to make up their minds until they've seen several screenings.

Monday's sample lessons included science, biology, Spanish, music, French, arithmetic, algebra, history and geography. The taped lessons were sent on two ultra high frequency channels from transmitters aboard the plane.

MPATI officials hope at least 500,000 pupils will participate in the program next fall.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEREETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEREETH at any drug counter.

Salem Candidates File Expense Reports

Six Salem candidates have filed campaign expense reports with the County Election Board at East Liverpool, in compliance with state law.

Filing the reports were Thomas Coe, no expenses; Lloyd Morrison, $2.30; James H. Kleinman, $11.20; George A. Ehrhart, $21.62; Carl C. Abe, $2.40; and James H. Criswell, none.

Also filing a report was Elizabeth E. Kegelmeyer of Leetonia, no expenses.
